Project Update

The company is in the process of executing the purchase order with product ready to be shipped. Installation locations have been given to ConectiSys. GNF operations staff is currently being trained with ConectiSys Back End Office software and network management tools. We anticipate installations to begin proceeding in a timely manner.

CEO

Robert Spigno is currently in California to deal with some new prospective opportunities that have come to the company's attention. Robert will be leaving back for Costa Rica and Nicaragua by the end of the month to oversee the project.

UTC Website

We have given the UTC site new graphic headers and as an on-going construction in the near future the company plans to:

- Update the site with HNet 7 product images
- Update the site with a feature animation explaining how HNet works released in three phases
- Update the site with video footage of manufacturing and product installation
- Upgrade text and visual product information

The UTC site is an ongoing project which will allow all to understand what HNet and the Smart Plug deliver in a snapshot.

The Company

ConectiSys Corporation is setting up the platform for the future. We anticipate a very vertical future and are taking the proper steps to perfect our path. It is the intent of the company and its shareholders to become a worldwide leader in AMR/ AMI products and services. Current activity has set a path that will bring us levels of unparalleled capabilities and innovation in our market. We plan on taking action in every means possible to grow exponentially in the coming months and years and look forward to pleasing our shareholders after years of hard work and anticipation.

Timing

The next four months will dictate the immediate future of the company. Though things have progressed slower than anticipated leading to this point we foresee things to begin moving on a vertical time scale. We must perform to the best of our abilities and prosper in our dealings to reach the success we anticipate. ConectiSys has fulfilled all mandatory requests on time and looks forward to the coming months with the process of installation and future purchase orders.
